This is the Timer Digest hotline for Saturday April 13, 2019. The Dow stands at 26,412.30 up 269.25 on Friday but down 12.69 points for the week. There have been 1 signal change, 1 Consensus signal change, and 2 realignments since Wednesday’s hotline. The Top Ten Consensus is Bullish with 10 Bulls. The Top Long Term Timers are Bullish with 10 Bulls. The Top Bond Timers are Bullish with 2 Bulls, 1 Bear, and 2 Neutral. Steve Todd has moved to a Sell signal for Bonds. And, the Top Gold Timers are now Bearish with 1 Bull, 3 Bears, and 1 Neutral. Now, the comments of the Top Timers.

Fari Hamzei of Hamzei Analytics is on a March 29, Buy signal. He said a majority of proprietary indicators remain in positive territory.

James Rohrbach of Investment-Models.com is on a January 7, Buy signal. At that time, his proprietary model indicated conditions for equity investment were favorable.

Steve Rhodes of Mastering Probability is on a March 13, Buy signal. He indicated potential for additional gains into the month of May after his S&P 500 reference futures contract surpassed benchmark proprietary resistance areas.

Nathan Campbell of KT Number is on a January 9, Buy signal. In the case of this signal, his proprietary NASDAQ Composite index calculation indicates a rising trend.

David Vomund of VIS Alert is on an October 11, Buy signal. He said his reference Advance/Decline line has continued to exhibit a constructive trend.

James Stack of Investech Research is on a February 21, Buy signal. He said the technical situation has improved; but late-stage economic cycle risks remain a concern.

Manfred Zimmel of Amanita Market Forecasting is on a January 11, Buy signal. He expects further gains to remain difficult in the period ahead.

Mark Rose of Rosecast.com is on an April 10, Buy signal. He suggested the market is positioned for a strong rally of at least short-term duration.

Holly Hooper-Fournier of The Mutual Fund Strategist is on a January 18, Buy signal. She said April seasonality is favorable; and momentum indicators remain supportive.

Philip Michalek of Focused Growth Investor is on a January 2, Buy signal. His outlook has been supported by slow economic growth, low interest rates, and low inflation.

There are no changes for the ETF program. Current holdings include: the iShares Russell 2000 ETF (IWM), and the Money Market fund.

There are no changes for the Diversified Select Program. Current holdings include: IT Services, Semiconductors, and the Fidelity Money Market Fund. The Semiconductors Fund is number 1 followed by: IT Services, Communications Equipment, Wireless, Environment & Alternative Energy, Leisure, and Utilities.

There are no changes for the Model Portfolio. There are no changes for the Dow Jones 30 portfolio. Current holdings include: Cisco, McDonald’s, Merck, Microsoft, and Proctor & Gamble.

If necessary, a special hotline will be posted 2 hours before the opening, that is by 7:30 a.m. Eastern Time on Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday. Otherwise, the next regular hotline will be Wednesday evening April 17.